I'm not looking for legal advice I'm looking for justice. There has been serious theft here and I'm looking for the government to do an investigation, that does not require lawyers or attorney client privilege. You could check with the FBI they need direction from you before they're going to proceed, not you per se.

If you don't want to respond that's fine it will just be another person in the system that passes the baton and avoid due process and refuses to investigate hundreds of million dollars of fraud.

You are represented by counsel and I cannot communicate with you. Respectfully, you are asking for legal advice as well.

I will not necessarily respond to all emails from you, given the above.

As for adjournments/extensions, my office takes no position.

Mr. Zipes,

Thank you for your quick reply. Benjamin Rajotte, copied here is providing legal advice to me. As you may have seen from my separate note, we are kindly requesting an extension on the YJ Simco matters contained herein.

My question below was focused on the DOJ and the process for investigation. Judge Beckerman made it very clear in the "conversion" hearing that if an investigation is what I was looking for, Chapter 7 will do exactly that. We have been in touch with Mr. Messer and his counsel, they are not focused on this, even though we have tried to illustrate the concerns to them with multiple documents, evidentiary proof and the like. Maybe it will just require Mr. Rajotte to spend more time with them once he clears his calendar for the two other urgent matters regarding the related cases.

Given the other two actions that must be attended to by me and Mr. Rajotte this week, we can certainly pick up this conversation at another time that is convenient for you and potentially the three of us can have a conference call or meeting.

Thank you,

Jeffrey Simpson

Please note that this case converted to a chapter 7 case on notice to the debtor. A chapter 7 trustee has been appointed. That trustee has statutory duties. You can bring your concerns to his attention but I cannot predict what he will do with that information.

Here is the chapter 7 trustee contact information:

Good Morning Ms. Siegel, Mr. Rudewicz, and Mr. Zipes,

I reached out late last week to Ms. Siegel and she suggested that I call Mr. Zipes. I did leave a voice mail but i did not hear back.

It was my understanding from Judge Beckerman that the conversion to a Chapter 7 will result in an investigation and unfortunately that is not was the outside appointed UST is focused on whatsoever.

The attached gives a glimpse of what I am suggesting here. It did not generate any substantial feedback from any of the Judges involved.

The purpose of my call is to share with you what is really going on here and hoping that you can point me in the right direction within DOJ. We are in bankruptcy ( x 2) for the reasons described in the letter and there is serious international criminality going on here I have shared with the FBI but i t believe they will need DOJ or another agency to to call for the investigation.

Thank you and i apologize in advance if i am sending this to the wrong channel, in advance.

Best Regards,

Jeffrey Simpson
